

Queensland Fire and Biodiversity Consortium

Brand Expansion Disclaimer

August 2020

In 2020, the South East Queensland Fire and Biodiversity Consortium rebranded to the Queensland Fire and Biodiversity Consortium (QFBC), reflecting increasing demand for its services by stakeholders and community in broader Queensland and the state-wide interests of some of its partners. The QFBC was founded on a collaborative engagement model, committed to evidence-based science and practice, knowledge sharing and respect. The views of the QFBC are representative of the QFBC only and do not purport to represent the views of other stakeholders, government agencies or organisations. Whilst the QFBC maintains its core focus in South East Queensland, it welcomes the opportunity to collaborate with new partners, remaining respectful of existing fire management programs and networks across Queensland.
